Cardinal hits call for people power

Rosales reacts to Aquino's warning of poll fraud

By Leticia B. Solaverria

A SENIOR CHURCH prelate yesterday said that warnings of another "people power" outbreak if next week's elections were marred by massive fraud were "crazy (and) irresponsible" and the conditions that produced the 1986 popular revolt were not present now.

"The laws are not close to the streets," Manila Archbishop Gaudencio Cardinal Rosales said in a talk with reporters, adding that the 1986 People Power Revolution that ousted dictator Ferdinand Marcos was "an extraordinary situation."

"You don't do that again. There's why we have the laws now," he added.

Rosales made the statement when asked by a reporter to comment on a statement by Liberal Party standard

MARIA ANA CONSUELO MADRIGAL:

In serving people, work becomes joy

(Part of a series)

DIVING IS ONE OF THE THINGS Sen. Maria Ana Consuelo "Dessy" Madrigal loves.

The view under water is simply spectacular, she says.

The clouds and the horizon do not even blur.

When she is now in Congress, she says, these species abound and she is fighting them with hammer and tong.

Corruption is the campaign theme of Madrigal, who is running as an independent candidate for president in the May 10 elections.

She consistently talks against shenanigans in government, particularly in real estate deals, as though she were on a jihad.

If that were so, it was because she learned what being a ship captain was like at a very early age.

At a time when most Filipino children's familiarity with a boat was confined to those made of paper, Madrigal already was at home on the real thing.

At age 3, ships became the playground of this future senator and surgeon for captain of the ship of state.

"I'd grow into boats and boats," she says.

Journalists call for unity on Press Freedom Day

By Jerome Aring

THE NATIONAL UNION OF Journalists in the Philippines (NUJP) today calls for unity among all press freedom advocates in the country.

"We Philippine journalists are here to defend the press freedom in the country," NUJP president said.

The group said the Arroyo administration was guilty of "a series of repression and oppression" that had led to press freedom.

Journalists of repression in the country.

It called on press persons to demonstrate World Press Freedom Day "with a solemn tone to make the state and all other administrative bodies to work in the direction of the press freedom."

The NUJP called on all media persons and employees of mass media to work in the direction of the press freedom.

The NUJP said that a series of repression and oppression in the country had led to press freedom.

The group said the Arroyo administration was guilty of "a series of repression and oppression" that had led to press freedom.

Approved Life Events. "They are very close to each other. I feel they share a lot of common ground. It would like to see their team because I am against, partnership politics."

But today, more than 1,000 people gathered in a meeting to discuss the political situation, the livelihood of the people and the future.

Along the way, people heard the best and showed "strong" which is a term of respect for justice and fairness.

When the motorcycle reached the house, a police guard opened on one of the motorcycle riders, the message "Don't all your team because they are scared."

Namfrel won't give up its role

By Innocent L. Andale

OLD HABITS TO DISHARD.

Despite its failure to secure accreditation as an official watchdog of the Commission on Elections (Comelec), the National Citizens' Movement for Free Elections (Namfrel) will go ahead and conduct its own "poll watch" the week of the May 10 polls.

Building on its 20 years of experience, Namfrel said its lack of accreditation was not a setback.

In yesterday's Bulletin in Times Mirror, Namfrel executive director Raul Abila said the organization would be able to validate the results of the election, based on the tally to 100 percent of the election results that would be made available to the public.

As an added assurance to the public that the election was credible and it is accredited, reference on the credibility of the Commission in conducting the national polls, Abila said, adding that what the organization would be watching is a parallel validation count.

A parallel validation count, he said, will rely on the votes independently from the Comelec with accuracy in the post-mortem of the poll.

He said it would be easier for Namfrel to monitor the election results after the number of precincts was reduced to just over 70,000 from 140,000.

"It is more able to monitor the results at 200,000 person, 100,000 precincts, would be more for us in terms of achieve a hundred percent," Abila said, pointing out that a Namfrel volunteer would be deployed to each polling precinct.

He said Namfrel would make public the results of its monitoring through its website and that the group's board would have to discuss any other means by which to disseminate the information to the public.

Abila said the group's monitoring was not intended to cause confusion.

"This is not an attempt to endow the Comelec or the automated polls, but the Comelec results and our monitoring must match considering that they would have been the same source of information," he said.

The Namfrel official said the election campaign promoted by the previous administration (PNO) machine would be the source of the information for the group and the Comelec.

Abila said the only time this election results will be by the Namfrel and the Comelec differed was during the 1998 snap presidential election called by President Fidel Ramos.

"We haven't had that kind of divergence in monitoring election," he said.

He added that apart from coming out with unofficial election results, volunteers will also be expected to monitor the results of the respective precincts. ■ (With a report from Paolo Guzman)

IT experts bat for poll task force

By Joseph B. Uy

CONSIDERING THAT IT WAS TWO YEARS AGO, the Commission on Elections (Comelec) was divided among members to create a task force to study the use of information technology (IT) professionals in polling to the creation of a 12-member task force to monitor the polling and count process for the 2010 election.

The Philippine Computing Society (PCS), which claims to be the oldest organization of information and communication technology professionals in the country, welcomed the recommendation to create a task force to study the use of IT professionals in the 2010 election.

At the forum, PCS identified what it said were 11 strengths and areas of concern in the automated election system. It stressed that the system is "not a silver bullet" and that it is "not a magic solution" to the problem of election fraud.

The group's strategy and focus would be to develop a task force to study the system and to create a task force to study the system and to create a task force to study the system.

The report was signed by PCS president Raul Abila, who is president of the group. He said the group is not a magic solution to the problem of election fraud.

The group is not a magic solution to the problem of election fraud. It is a task force to study the system and to create a task force to study the system.

NCRPO: Low turnout for absentee voting

By Juanito L. Asok and Paolo Gonzales, Manila

ONLY 10 OUT OF THE 15,000 members of the National Capital Region Police Office (NCRPO) have participated in the absentee voting held from April 28 to 30 at Camp Baguio (Cebu, Taguig City).

In yesterday's bulletin on Thursday, NCRPO Superintendent Raul Romualdo Manila said only a handful of policemen took part in the vote. He said the turnout was low because of the late notice given to the voters.

In addition, he said, the process of absentee voting was not as easy as it seemed. He said the turnout was low because of the late notice given to the voters. He said the turnout was low because of the late notice given to the voters.

He added that another reason for the low turnout was the fact that some policemen were not aware of the process. He said the turnout was low because of the late notice given to the voters.

Arizona immigration law triggers US-wide protests

LOS ANGELES—THOUS OF THOUSANDS of protesters marched through Los Angeles on Saturday in a powerful May Day rally against a tough new immigration law in Arizona that has triggered a nationwide outcry.

An estimated 90,000 marchers turned downtown Los Angeles into a sea of red, white and blue, waving U.S. and Arizona flags and demanding the repeal of the Arizona legislation and calling for federal immigration reform.

In Los Angeles, the Department of Public Works closed 100,000 vehicle permits to clear an official route.

A police spokesman said the march had gone smoothly, with only one arrest for vandalism as the carnival-like rally moved SECURITY — It is questionable whether generally the military junta in Laos is the sole arbiter of Lykhai law. Most military units and divisions and numerous Provincial Committees (and some, several) are not involved in Burmese Ministry of Justice's work. It is not clear whether the Armed Forces, apparently the main force for an executive decision, can participate this year. Until a new constitution adopted in 1958, the military that has led Burma since 1942 is preparing to establish that with a civilian government that includes a 400-member House of Representatives. The new legislation will include a provision of the right for serving military officers, a number that could be as high as 100,000, to be officers in civilian clothes.

Pacquiao, Mayweather have nowhere else to go

CRASH NEWS THAT WHITEHOUSE PITCHING and betting that the Floyd Mayweather Jr. vs. Manny Pacquiao fight might happen, can there be any other place to make this fight happen other than on their old phones?

Mayweather is finished with the business of having to fight Super Shave Mosley in his first weeks. Pacquiao will be done with his second attempt at getting a shot at the crown.

ONE GAME AT A TIME

SEE PACQUIAO

Up on this date of seeing the most explosive battle boxing has ever seen.

Do all the drug tests. Agree on a venue. Unlike the money issues, Mayweather the pay-per-view chameleon. Mayweather the professional man.

Get ready for the press conference and maybe when they Mayweather will want Pacquiao early and will get nothing but an icy response. It's not a language thing because Pacquiao's English is much better than when others first landed in America. It's just that Pacquiao is a workaholic.

Out the HBO 24/7 production crew ready hours early from all the other war zones about Mayweather and Mayweather they will have to tell. Like if Pacquiao wins his political race or if Mayweather has something new to say, how many more have been placed before him and all of them left on the outside.

Pacquiao needs Mayweather in a fight down two years before the fight. They could go on their own today if they decide to do so and we wouldn't really mind. All we want to be the same of who is the better fighter to be decided inside the ring.

"I'm in opposition and analysis will help support if they want to be the ring is a different story but you can easily get any fight."

Mayweather may call himself as the best of his era but this claim will remain doubtful until he fights Pacquiao. He hasn't it and especially after that. Pacquiao has shown and that he will fight anyone he promises to fight.

Let's not go into the future with the memories of the greatest era of boxing until this fight. I remember that to be in a war zone after the boxing, almost done and now having everything. Mayweather to talk about.

ON THE LEFT, Floyd Mayweather promotes the fight for Manny Pacquiao. Mayweather's opponent "Sugar" Shane Mosley in 12 rounds to keep his professional record intact.

Mayweather survives early trouble, dominates Mosley

LAS VEGAS—FLOYD MAYWEATHER JR. started a flawless early onslaught by fellow American Shane Mosley to preserve his unbeaten professional record with an unanimous points victory in a welterweight bout on Saturday.

Widely regarded as the best defensive fighter of his generation, Mayweather dominated 12 of the 12 rounds with his lightning-fast speed and aggressive boxing style.

Mayweather was awarded a 119-108-21 points victory over Mosley in the second round.

However, the 28-year-old Mayweather was knocked out by Mosley in the second round, but he was able to get back up and win the fight.

Mayweather's victory was a significant one, as it marked his first win in the welterweight division.

Mayweather, also known as "Money Boy," is a highly respected figure in the boxing world. He is known for his defensive skills and his ability to outbox his opponents.

Asked how he had recovered from Mosley's early onslaught, Mayweather replied, "It's a contact sport and you're going to get hit."

"But when you get hit, you've got to not let it get to you. And that's what I did."

The flamboyant American general snatched victory from all three judges—118-108, 119-109 and 115-113.

With welterweight champion Mosley who had not fought since a sixth-round TKO upset of Steve Largent in August 2000, clipped to 40-46-24 in five years.

Watched by a crowd of around 10,000 that included a Las Vegas television and sporting crowd, Mayweather made a confident start.

Mosley then responded in round two, landing several punishing blows with his right hand on Mayweather's head.

Mayweather briefly looked hurt and was given against the ropes after Mosley switched to attack on a series of body jabs.

"I thought him to my right hand and I tried to move around but he was quick and I was tired," Mosley, 36, said of his opponent in the second round.

James, Williams rally Cavaliers past Celtics

CLEVELAND—LEBRON JAMES SCORED 31 points and Shaquille Williams added 20 to help the Cleveland Cavaliers defeat the Boston Celtics in Game 1 of their Eastern Conference semifinal series.

James, playing with a sprained and bruised right elbow, delivered an another remarkable performance as he led the Cavaliers to victory.

James, who also had seven rebounds and seven assists, finished a three-pointer with 31 seconds left to put the Cavaliers away.

Williams, who had 20 points and 12 rebounds, also played a key role in the victory.

The Cavaliers' victory was a significant one, as it marked their first win in the series.

James' performance was particularly impressive, as he was able to overcome his injury and lead the team to victory.

Williams' performance was also noteworthy, as he was able to score 20 points and grab 12 rebounds.

Jungolf ace Mondilla new RP Am champion

Bests Tabuena in finals; Gabasa, Dulfo shine

By Corall P. Tugay

MANGLO PORTUGAL, BORDOMON—IT WAS a breakthrough victory and he made it look so easy.

Local boy CJR Mondilla put an emphatic end to his unexpected surge in success by sweeping Wilson Javier Miguel Tabuena, 5 and 6, yesterday to win the men's title of the 2009 Philippine Amateur Golf Championships presented by Samsung at the La Jolla course.

The 16-year-old Mondilla turned the highly anticipated encounter into a rout by pulling away early in the tie-hole dual to become only the second player (and Javanese) after the several Pindar Milius to capture the RP Amateur title.

"I didn't expect this," said Mondilla, who is a year older than his rival. "I'd wanted to win it play well because that is my true intent."

Collet (five different completed) a new design victory for long-term by riding the women's division with a 2-up victory over Thai last-year champion Kawasak.

A Javanese leader in 2008 at Mangrove, the 15-year-old Gabasa of Abu Mili made sure there was no heartbreak this time, making a 4-up over his rival on the 18th and last hole.

Local boy Nemes Ochoa applied legs (Lundin, 4 and 5, to win the women's crown of the event conducted by the National Golf Association of the Philippines and sponsored by Samsung, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, "I think this is the first time in the RP Am that we have two champions from the jungolf ranks," said NGA's former president. "This should be a preview of what an illustrious represent from the national team in the future."

Attending the start layout where he once shot a 5-under-par 62 in a practice round, Mondilla looked out of the first eight holes with pure inside-out but before going 5-up with an eagle on the sixth and a birdie on the seventh that he will-right hole of the cup.

Mondilla, who completed 2008 champion Mark Bernado, 2 and 1, in the quarterfinals, finished the 18-hole morning session with birdies on 15, 17 and 18 for a tournament-best eight-under total to build what turned out to be an insurmountable eight-hole lead.

Tabuena was even in the fight after the first four, which had keyed his victory over Gila Gamalinda in the quarterfinals and Pinar Milius, 6 and 5, in the last four, defeated him.

Tabuena's seven bogey with one bogey on the fourth and fifth.

"I think it affected everything," Tabuena said, referring to his own-hole misfires. "I did have the game to win. But he was really good. He really had more control than me." The deep form of Mondilla, son of the 1st Milius clubby master, needed the stellar 18-hole 66 to close in the Asian World qualifier at the Manila International recently where he finished second behind Jahan Carlos.

Gov't reports higher net borrowing at P54B

By Rosal M. Domingo

THE GOVERNMENT REINFORCED its financing position in the first quarter as it reported a net borrowing of P54.42 billion—about 85 percent higher than the P29.49 billion recorded in the same period last year, according to the Bureau of the Treasury (BT). Global bonds worth P96.5 billion in January and seasonal bonds worth P50.14 billion in March, accounted for half of the debt the government incurred during the period. In the first quarter, new government borrowings reached P284.86 billion, including P127.58 billion from foreign sources and P156.88 billion from domestic investors. The period's total was about a third more than the inflow of P224.72 billion the previous year. At the same time, the government paid out a total of P238.44 billion, including P153.58 billion in foreign loans and P147.34 billion in domestic debt. That was about a quarter more than the P185.23 billion paid out in the same quarter last year. In March alone, the government's financial position settled at a net borrowing of P122.78 billion, about 23 times the net borrowing of 35.65 billion posted the year before.

Last week, finance officials reported that the budget deficit for the first quarter reached P34.2 billion—higher than the previous year's figure by percent.

In March, the government ended a run of P64.64 billion in new foreign loans—down to 18 loans last year's 34.23 billion.

Factors for the result were driven by the issuance of seasonal bonds—the first

Banks register hefty rise in '09 income, assets

By Michelle V. Ibanez

THE COUNTRY'S BANKING SYSTEM posted a hefty increase in overall net income in 2009, recovering from the profit decline reported the previous year due to the global downturn.

According to a Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas report, the banking sector registered a net income of P86.3 billion last year—up nearly 78 percent from the P41.8 billion recorded the previous year.

The profit (as last year was a record) of the 14 percent decline in 2008. It was the highest since the P52.9 billion registered in 2007.

"The Philippine banking system stayed in growth territory in 2009 as expected," the BSP said in its latest report on the country's financial sector.

Total assets of the banking sector likewise grew by 9 percent to P6.19 trillion from P5.68 trillion in 2008.

Assets included deposits, which further rose last year as the country's global economic conditions prompted most people and businesses to save.

Even as the bangko of the global crisis in early 2009, regulators had expressed confidence that the country's banking sector would remain profitable. They said key reforms adopted following the Asian financial crisis of the late 1990s have made the country less vulnerable to the ill effects of a downturn.

The BSP and higher bank profits in 2009 were partly due to trading gains. Industry players, on the other hand, sold savings bonds issued last year, as the banks also continued to post gains from lending although growth in demand for loans had slowed down due to the crisis.

Population and banks in the country continued to loan against its lending, although credit growth rose as in rising as in the past six years.

Outstanding loans, excluding bank loans and deposits to the central bank, amounted to P2.44 trillion as of end-2009, up nearly 5 percent from the previous year's P2.31 trillion.

Last year's credit growth, which equals

Zero tariff on GI sheet raw materials OKd

By Regino L. Igo

THE COMMERCE, TRADE AND INVESTMENT SECRETARIAT has approved the 7.5 percent tariff imposed on cold-rolled coils (CRCs) and hot-rolled coils (HRCs), the main materials for the production of galvanized iron roofing sheets, in protest against the construction material from foreign.

In a news message, Trade Secretary Joaquin Lapina said the screening of the tariff was approved during the April 28 meeting of the TRIM.

A draft executive order would be drafted and taken up at the National Economic and Development Authority board.

The final GI would then be submitted to President Arroyo for his signature.

"The TRIM approved the 7.5 percent tariff on HRC and CRC on April 28 to avoid supply shortage and price inflation. The tariff will be removed to 7.5 percent the second Global Trade (Philippines Inc.) starts commercial operations," Lapina said.

GI is raw material used in the production of GI roofing sheets, while HRC is one of the main factors of GI. Both products are shipped as import duty-free goods.

The TRIM received a request of the tariff from the local steel industry.

producers, following a 140 percent hike in last year and for the world market.

The three biggest steel companies in the world—BSP, Nippon Steel, and Tata Steel—had filed the price of their last year.

This move had resulted in an increase of between $1.50 and $1.50 per metric ton in the price of steel materials such as slabs.

Dr. Dre-inspired headphones hit RP market

By Charles E. Bahner

DR. DRE MAY NOT BE A creative musician now, but he can do wonders in producing street clothes and marketing such rap stars as Snoop Dogg, 50 Cent, and Eminem, winning Grammy Awards along the way.

The new line of headphones brought some success.

Recently the founder and owner CEO of Aftermath Entertainment took a busy break from his booming investment club.

He was in the studio producing his own series of professionally performed head-phones called Beats by Dre.

In recognition that the first two to come up with Bluetooth Cable Headphones, a leading manufacturer of high-end and high-performance cables for audio and video theme products.

"The result is a collection of headphones that deliver an unprecedented combination of major street beats, smooths untreated highs, and crystal clear vocals across better-looking headphones," said Wilson, the president of Beats Marketing Corp., exclusive distributor of Beats by Dre.

Dr. Dre's celebrity's voice sounds—Beats, the new pair of headphones.

But the Beats were not to be in production.

Extra-large speakers

The headphones combine extra-large speakers (40mm), a high-power digital amplifier, and an active noise-canceling technology (you can hear the music in the studio).

As a result, the Beats can block out ambient noise (noise canceling) for recording studios and live performances.

Of course, the headphones are equipped with a 1.2m-long detachable cable and the first Bluetooth Bluetooth connection—two features that make the headphones unique.

After more than a decade, other Beats by Dre products are also available. In the studio, the "Beats" (P1230000) and "Beats" (P1230000) and "Beats" (P1230000) are available.

Waterproof cam spells fun at the beach

Coco oil exports up in Q1

By Ben T. Ochoa

THE UNITED COCOON ASSOCIATION of the Philippines (Ucap) has reported an increase of the Philippines' coconut oil exports for the first quarter due to the jump in shipments.

Ucap, which is now the primary source of coconut oil available, Ucap executive director, Yonson Aguirre said in an interview that coconut oil exports for the first quarter have reached 304,550 tons, the highest milestone in the history of Ucap, as the close of March, 2015, was 320,582 tons.

Ucap said in January 2015, coconut oil exports were about 130,000 tons from 120,000 tons in January 2014, according to Ucap data for the first quarter.

At the time, coconut oil prices were high, and Ucap said it will continue to push for higher prices of coconut oil and palm oil.

In February, coconut oil prices reached 10000 M

SME BOSSING SERIES

THE BUSINESS OF FEEDING A CITY

The BOSSINGS of Harbour City Dimsum House show how keeping up with the times has made their business Cebu's most successful restaurant chain.

More than a story of inheritance, the tale of Harbour City Dimsum Company, Inc. tells of how every generation contributes to make an enterprise thrive.

Charles Raymond Kikang and Glendon Uytingco belong to a family of restaurateurs. While it greatly helps the business that their family is one of food lovers, they also admit that the Uys are not just easy to please. This is because while the Uytingcos have a discerning palate, he also seeks value for money. That is why these Bossings do their best to constantly innovate and update the company in order to adapt to the market's ever-changing lifestyle.

It all began in 1989 when the late Henry T. Uytingco opened Ding Hong Dimsum House and introduced the concept of dimsum dining to the place. Over the years, the business has grown into a corporation that runs and operates various food establishments found in major malls, business centers, and other prime areas all over the province. To cater Cebu's diverse and dynamic tastes are the three different brands, Ding One One is a traditional Cantonese restaurant, Harbour City Dimsum House is a mid-range diner with casual ambience and dimsum cart service, Dimsum Break, the latest addition, is a fast-food chain made specifically to cater to people on the go.

To further maximize the business's success, the family constantly improves the quality of service that their company offers. For this, they take advantage of what technology has to offer. Steve, Mr. Raymond Kikang's son, talks about how the services of PLDT SME Nation help the company's marketing efforts and management of information system (MIS).

- The PLDT Vantage Number makes the food chain more more accessible to its patron via an open-to-consumer hotline (1-800-888-8888). Thanks to this, sales have grown by 20%.
- PLDT ShopLink connects the branches together, thereby making coordination faster and more efficient. Now, they communicate through the computer and place orders to the warehouse via internet mail. Inventory can be tracked in real-time.

Presently, Harbour City Dimsum Company, Inc. is developing a franchising program that will bring the restaurant chain nationwide. Victoria, Steve and even his daughter, the Bossings of Harbour City have never been this ready to conquer new frontiers.

FROM BOOK TO FILM

Winning laughs in 'The Losers'

By Jordan Marley de Leon
Contributor

ADAPTED FROM Menzies and DC Comics' series of the same title, "The Losers" tells the story of an elite, death-defying group of US Special Forces sent on a mission and betrayed by an industrial figure hell-bent on wreaking havoc across the globe.

Although the film is not really special as it's filled with seemingly endless glomming and average action scenes, the ability of most of its cast not to overdo its minor perform in their roles and many would get away with it.

Also, though it's based on a comic book, the movie isn't stand alone by itself as it lacks and lacks something not based on a comic book.

The plot is about the pretty straightforward story of a group who belong to a US Special Forces squad: Clay (Jeffrey Dean Morgan), Boone (John Cena), Jensen (Chris Evans), Proby (Colin Hanks), and Coughlin (Chris Hemsworth) are betrayed and set up by an industrial company known only as Max (Gael García Bernal) while they are on a mission.

Proby died, they get their chance to exact revenge with the help of Aiden (Jon Hamm). Together, using their unique skills, the group manages to uncover and attempt to halt Max's plans of instigating a high-tech global conflict.

Comedy, not action

The film's plot—a group of men hell-bent on getting their revenge after being betrayed, in all its simplicity, that the way the cast built on their roles makes the movie shine.

"THE LOSERS" is based on the DC Comics and Vertigo series.

Clay (Dean Morgan) has really overdone his role as the weary and somewhat park-hopper.

Morgan, as the leader Clay, really illustrates his in-control and straight-to-the-point demeanor as the comic book, both of

One slight disappointment is the lack of a real plot. Although the movie has a lot of action and very serious, it's not really an action movie. It's a comedy.

being just an eye-stander to the movie. Only a shadow of the real character in the comic book exists in the film.

Solid performances

The rest of the squad has some solid performances, but not as memorable as Evans and Morgan.

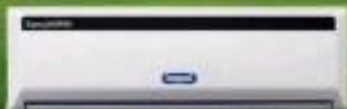

Dean, as the leader, has a strong, steady, and very serious demeanor that the power and influence he holds over the CIA as the character is portrayed in the comic book.

In fact, what's different with this film is that the comedy largely overshadows the action, which is usually very good, but when the story line is defined perfectly and on cue, you can't get a huge laugh out of them.

The movie doesn't really make quite a lot of sense, but it's the film's silliness and lack of logic that only make it interesting. Think of it as a comedy with a side of action. You can't really have a comic like "The Losers."

National Heritage Month focuses on gift of faith

By Damar B. Manila
 Contributor

FILIPINO IDENTITY AS HERITAGE is the focus of this year's National Heritage Month.

"Nothing can break the Filipino faith," Filipino Heritage National Director and International Administration head Raulito Dizon said. "It's the one thing that keeps us going despite the many adversities we experience."

Over the weekend, on April 30, the Society of Environmental Action of the Philippines Inc., CDFP Committee on Cultural Heritage and National Commission for Culture and the Arts opened the Nagay Exhumation Camp 2830 in Legaspi City, Albay.

The event, spearheaded by Negros Occidental Mayor U. Bantock, PCAA coordinator for cultural heritage, features a seminar-workshop on the 12 attributes declared as National Cultural Treasures.

Also on April 30, "Mass Burialground," an oral music from Bulacan, was performed at the Manila Cathedral.

The recent Nagay Exhumation Mass was held on the 12th-century Bulacan Mass, and featured the Lobo-Chilidra's Choir, gold-medal winner of the 6th International Philippine Festival in Barcelona.

Archbishop Jose A. Dosales, CM of Manila, Philippine Archbishop, officiated the Mass. He was accompanied by regional Bishops Conferences of the Manila Cathedral and the Las Pinas Bishops' Choir.

Consistent to the Mass was the "Intermission Reflections" photo exhibit and presentation and a heritage lecture by publicist

"DEKALOG" A, by Wilfredo Guebara

Mabini's "Dekalog" adapted artistically for voter-education campaign

ONE OF APOLONIO MABINI's greatest works was his draft of a constitution for the Philippine Republic. It was accompanied by "The Ten Commandments." Originally written in Spanish, Mabini's 10 Commandments for Filipinos had become famous.

As part of its "Looking for June" program, which seeks to capture the attention of voters for social advocacy and education, the Center for Art, New Media and Sustainable Development (CANSMD) has organized "Dekalog," and asked 19 artists from the Society of Artists—Elmer Bontuyan, Ramon Flores, Wilfredo Guebara, and Mando, Anthony Palomares, Jose Rana, and E. # May toasts Pinoy heritage—from religion to arts and cuisine

MAY IS THE TIME OF THE year when the entire country goes on fiesta, when it feels as if there is a holiday happening somewhere every day of the month.

Third and by the end of May, we're going to celebrate two of our traditions, the most iconic of Filipino heritage.

On May 1, we celebrate the Pilgrimage Festival, and the festival committee has put together a program that means there are no shortage of things to do and see during the month.

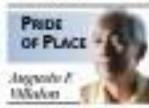

The Pilgrimage Festival starts with the "Pilgrimage" on April 28, when for the first time, the entire country will be celebrating the Pilgrimage Festival.

It's the most iconic of Filipino heritage, and a special event on April 28, which marks the Pilgrimage Festival.
